ALUMINUM ROLLING MINI SHUTTER

If the application suggests a lighter-duty closure with a more moderate degree of security, we also offer our line of European-style, roll formed aluminum mini shutters. These self-contained units are easily installed and they require relatively little headroom for the coil and mechanical systems. The shutter guides also support the weight of the entire shutter assembly. They are often electrically operated using an ingenious motor contained within the coiling barrel that may be adapted to a wide range of control circuitry.
